WESTERLY

Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rowland, who will observe the fifth anniversary of the marriage at their home in New London Monday next, will have the hearty congratulations of the many Westerly people. For about two years Mr. Rowland has been conductor of the local train for Providence due to leave Westerly at 7:28 in the morning and on the return trip to New London is scheduled to arrive in Westerly at 8:10 in the evening. It is the train most patronized by Westerly people. Mr. Rowland is favorably known to the traveling public on nearly all routes in this railroad district and is noted for his courtesy to patrons and faithfulness to the railroad company. Mrs. Rowland is equally popular with her large acquaintance.

Mr. Rowland is now seventy years young, has been in the railroad employ for fifty-one years, beginning as a water boy, has been a conductor for forty-one years and is the senior conductor in this railroad territory. Mr. Rowland was born in Lyme, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Rowland. Mrs. Rowland, who was born in East Lyme, February 2, 1870, by Rev. Davis Brainard. They have three sons and a daughter, and have been residents of New London for nearly forty years.

The state of Rhode Island, in a resolution presented by Representative James H. Caswell, of Narragansett, is asked to appropriate $5000 for a monument to the memory of Governor William Sprague, in the town of Narragansett. The resolution was referred to the finance committee and stipulated that the appropriation is to be applied to a like sum to be supplied by the town.

A Baptist Evangelical conference, state-wide, will open Monday and close on Sunday. It will be under the direction of Dr. H. S. Stillwell, of the American Baptist Home Missionary society, assisted by Rev. York A. King, of Lawrence, and Rev. William G. Cooper, representative of the Rhode Island evangelist committee.

John Spasato, a local jitneyman, was before Judge Oliver H. Williams in the Third District court, Friday, charged with reckless driving. Spasato was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 with the costs.

verely injured Miss Mabel Williams, who was walking with a girl friend well to the right of the highway, and while she was endeavoring to give an approaching automobile an evasive berth. The claim was made that Spasato was driving at a moderate speed and due to weather conditions he did not see the girls, especially as he had just passed an automobile with glaring headlights going in an opposite direction. Before rendering his decision, Judge Williams stated it would be well for him to stop and find out just where he was at, and not take a chance that might result in a fatality.

After arguments by Attorney John I. Dunn for defendant and Town Solicitor Harry P. Azard, for the state, Spasato was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $50 with the costs.

A vote was polled by ninety-two members of the Rhode Island Bar association, as to preference for the supreme court judgeship, the position which the republican caucus favors for Judge John W. Sweeney of Westerly. The ballot of the lawyers showed that Judge Chester W. Barrows was first choice with 52, Judge George T. Brown 28 and Judge Sweeney 16. For second choice, Barrows 48, Brown 27, Sweeney 38. The results will be presented to both branches of the general assembly.

Resolutions for the transfer of the books, papers, and records and other property in the office of Clarence E. Roche, clerk of the Third District court at Westerly, to his successor, M. Walter Flynn, was favorably reported by the senate judiciary committee, passed by the senate and transmitted to the house.

It is the increased honor rather than the increase in pay that river navigation to superior court judges of the supreme court of Rhode Island as the difference in salary is hardly worth while to the members of the state judiciary. The salary of a judge of the superior court is $8,500 and that of an associate judge of the supreme court is $7,000. In Connecticut the pay of these judges is the same, $7,500 a year.

Several Westerly members attended the annual meeting of the Rhode Island Dental association in Providence Thursday evening. The following officers were elected: Dr. Ernest Charbonnel, of Providence, president; Dr. William R. Burre, of Providence, vice president; Dr. Joseph P. Massicotte, of Olneyville, secretary; Dr. Henry W. Church, of Bristol, treasurer; Dr. Orville T. Bliss, of Providence, chairman. Drs. Frank E. Duffey of Riverpoint, James P. Clark of Providence and Dr. B. Stillson of Providence, were appointed a committee to confer with Governor Beekman in relation to the recommendation of a dentist for membership on the state board of health.

The river and harbor bill contains no item for Rhode Island waterway improvement as such. Representative Silvers, however, succeeded in getting into the bill an authorization for a survey of the Pawcatuck river from Westerly to Little Narragansett bay. The Pawcatuck river forms part of the boundary between Rhode Island and Connecticut. It is estimated the survey will cost about $5,000.

Rev. Eric H. Lindh, for several years pastor of the church in Hallowell, and who frequently preached in Westerly, was installed Thursday evening as pastor of the Bethany Congregational church in Quincy. The sermon was preached by Rev. Arthur Brown, D. D., of Providence. Mr. Lindh was born in Chicago, but was to Brooklyn with his parents in 1877.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1893 and took theological course in the Harvard Divinity school. While holding pastorates in Rhode Island he was state president of the Rhode Island Home Missionary society, chairman of the Congregational state committee and for three years vice president of the Rhode Island Anti-Slavery League.

He enlisted for war service in the Y. M. C. A., but was unable to go abroad and so filled the pastorate of the Center Congregational church in South Manchester, Conn. The government presented him with a medal for his work as a speaker for war activities.

Stephen C. Packham, 73, died Friday from pneumonia at his home at Quonocontaug. He was born in Bradford and resided there and in Quonocontaug practically all of his life. He was for many years engaged in the fishing business. He is survived by his wife, who was Grace Louise Eldridge of Bradford, two daughters, Annie Louise, wife of Captain Howard Wilcox of Wakefield; Mary E., wife of Fay E. Pierce, of Westerly; and a son, Captain Clarence E. Packham, who commanded the Block Island Coast Guard station.

Local Laconics. The three-cent road tax bill has been adopted by the general assembly, by which about $250,000 will be raised for repairs and maintenance of state highways.

In response to a call for aid during the burning of the woolen mill in Old Mystic, Friday night, Chief Eager sent the Cyclone Hose wagon to the fire. The Westerly firemen did their share, townspeople preventing a spread of the flames. Equally as efficient service was rendered by the P. T. Barbers of Pawcatuck.

The house passed in concurrence, on Friday, the act to permit the town of Westerly to increase its tax rate to the limit of $2.50 on each $100 of taxable value.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Emmet, of Nequetoque, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Emma White Emmet, to Oscar Randall Beakston, of Pequotanock, son of Mrs. Charles M. Beakston.

The special election for a vote on the issuance of bonds to care for the blind and sailors' bonus act will be held throughout the state on September 10.

The Norwich Bulletin-Westerly calendar, arrived here Thursday and is appreciated as helpful and convenient. The photo of the old Jesse Moss place was furnished by Ed. C. Burdick. Rev. Clayton A. Burdick conducted the funeral services of Silas E. Lewis, Burial was at River Bend. The bearers were R. Joseph Rooney, Alva Dunham, William Minchen, Charles Holdridge and Frederick Shortman.

Benjamin, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Gaskill, of Mystic, died in Groton from pneumonia, on Thursday. He leaves a wife, who is ill with pneumonia, and a daughter, who also has the disease.

Due to sections of the tracks being covered with ice several inches in thickness trolley traffic to Watch Hill was suspended Thursday.

LEFINGWELL

Miss Caroline L. Beebe, who has been ill for a week, returned to her school Monday. Curtis White, Merion L. Swan, Fred A. Lefingwell, Roy L. Beard and Theodore G. Calkins held a coasting party on Lefingwell hill Monday evening.

Wednesday afternoon the missionary meeting for January was held at the home of Mrs. Silas W. Lefingwell. Mrs. A. H. Beebe was in charge. The Scripture reading was from Psalm 111. Mrs. C. E. Ellis offered prayer. The secretary's report was read, also by Mrs. Carrie Park. Miss Alice M.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood, and purifying the entire system. They do that which calomel does, without any of the bad after effects. Take one or two every night for a week and note the pleasing effect. 10c and 25c a box.

He'll Be Available. It's going to be a hard job to find an excuse for high ice prices next summer. Some talented fiction artist may have to be engaged, no common liar being equal to the emergency. — Toledo Blade.

Many a man like the moon, shines with borrowed light.

HE FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN. Rheumatic pains, backache, pains in sides, sore muscles, stiff joints or an "always tired" feeling are usually symptoms of disordered kidneys. W. W. Wells, Topeka, Mich., writes: "I am on my feet most of the time and get tired. But after taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel like a new man. I recommend them to my customers and have never heard of any case where they did not give satisfaction." Prompt action to relieve kidney troubles and bladder ailments. Lee & Osgood Co.
